

Concept Question 7-14: Why does the  $z$ -transform map convolutions to products?

The derivation of this property is analogous to the derivation in continuous time, but an alternative way to view it is by noting that the procedure for polynomial multiplication is the same as that for discrete-time convolution.