

Concept Question 8-6: Why can dereverberation be implemented using real-time signal processing, while most deconvolution problems require batch signal processing?

Because the transfer function for dereverberation is minimum phase, the inverse system for dereverberation is stable and causal.